

My Avaz, Please

A social story for Kairav — asking others to return my communication device and setting boundaries

1

My cousin picked up my Avaz. My tummy feels worried.

2

My Avaz helps me talk. I feel upset when someone else has it.

3

Mummy says to my cousin, 'Please ask Kairav first.' I can point to my Avaz.

4

My cousin gives my Avaz back to me. I say 'thank you!' on my Avaz.

5

I tap 'we can share later!' on my Avaz. My Avaz belongs to me. That is the rule.
